Property Description

Welcome to Casa Chorotega, an exceptional home in Guanacaste, Costa Rica featuring a 15-meter (50 ft) lap pool. Nestled amidst lush tropical forest, this 3BR/3BA home offers unparalleled privacy and an immersive experience of Guanacaste's natural beauty, enhanced by its rooftop terrace. The house seamlessly blends into the surrounding environment - a forested creek forms a green buffer between Casa Chorotega and the outside world. A charming bridge provides access, create a sense of total privacy and seclusion. The layout of the home creates a true indoor-outdoor living experience, with all bedrooms and the living space opening to the patio surrounding the pool. Its spacious kitchen and living area is independent from the bedrooms, with everything brought together by the covered patio. Casa Chorotega was built to withstand Costa Rica's climate, with a concrete base and reinforced block walls, while also integrating local materials including teak ceilings and hardwood cabinetry.
