Property Description

It takes exactly three minutes to stroll from this Costa Rica beach home to a pristine, undiscovered spot on the Pacific and a surf spot known only to locals. This is a special home for anyone who values being close to the ocean, basking in the sunshine and breeze - it's also a perfect opportunity to develop a boutique hotel, health retreat or any business you feel could make a good use of one of the largest beachside lots still for sale in Junquillal. Measuring a full acre (exactly 4,007 m²) of titled land and perched on a gentle rise above the beach, the home's surroundings are idyllic. Yet a paved highway ends nearby; fibre optic internet is available and the local community has close to a dozen wonderful restaurants. It's a charming area (Playa Junquillal) where most hotels are family-owned and small. The property offers an opportunity to create anything. New owners could live in one space while renting the others, or develop a boutique BNB.
